Steps to Safely Surrender a Newborn

- Go to a hospital or fire station
- Hand the baby to staff. You need to tell the staff person that you want to surrender your baby.
- You are not required to answer any questions. You are not required to provide any information.
- Some hospitals/fire stations have special Baby Boxes where the baby can be put safely and no interaction with staff is required.

You can surrender your baby at any hospital or fire station.
